Permanence Project "PolicyNow.org"

Through this initiative, CBCF seeks to ensure that everyday Americans are able to participate in shaping public policy by serving as a resource for the latest data, research work and legislation on the issues that most impact African-American and underserved communities.

CBCF Internship and Fellowship Programs

CBCF Leadership Institute for Public Service offers scholarships, internships and fellowships to inspire the next generation of leaders. Through the Leadership Institute, CBCF fellows and interns have opportunities to work on Capitol Hill and in federal agencies, attend seminars led by policy experts and politicians, and gain firsthand views of leadership at its best by working with and learning from the Congressional Black Caucus and other leaders in Washington, D.C.

CPAR - Center for Policy Analysis and Research

CPAR researches, analyzes, and disseminates policy-related information critical to advancing African Americans toward economic development, educational opportunity and health equity. CPAR seeks to improve the socio-economic circumstances of African Americans by generating analyses of policy issues in education, economic development, public health and social welfare; facilitating substantive communication between stakeholder groups; and disseminating vital information to African-American elected officials, the media and the general public.

CBCF Scholarship Fund

CBCF has awarded scholarships to talented students for over 20 years. Our scholarship recipients have gone on to successful careers in government, non-profit and private sectors. Each year, we award more than 700 scholarships to students across the United States. For more information on individual scholarship programs, visit the CBCF Scholarship page.
