#BLACKAMERICACOUNTS
Black America Counts is an initiative with the Congressional Black Caucus Foundation Inc., and Fair Count. Our partnership aims to identify hard-to-count (HTC) communities across the nation in order to guide outreach and mobilization efforts to help increase census turn out.

PERCENT OF HTC NEIGHBORHOODS

>1%
1-25%
26-50%
51-75%
76-100%

Without an Internet connection or a cell phone, it can be difficult to fill out the Census. There are HTC Counties with >25% of population with no internet access or dial-up only
At Risk: Non-HTC Counties with >25% of population with no Internet access or dial-up only and 1 to 25% POC

Hard to Count Communities:
An HTC community is defined as a population at risk of being undercounted due to low return rates for the self-response questionnaire sent from the US Census Bureau and other factors.

Shaded counties on this map represent the percentage of the population that is hard to count.
